Poetical.

SOON AND MORNING.

There are gains for all our losses.
There are losses for all our gains:
But when youth, the dream, departs,
It takes something from our hearts,
And it never comes again!

We are stronger, and are better
Under nature's sterner edge:
Still we feel that something sweet
Followed youth with flying feet,
And it never comes again!

Something beautiful is vanished,
And we sigh for it in vain:
We behold it everywhere,
On the earth, and in the air—
But it never comes again!

Miscellaneous.

THE LIFETIME OF MAN.

When the world was created, and all creatures assembled to have lifetime appointed, the first advanced task he would have to do was to live.

"Thirty years," replied Nature, "will that be agreeable to thee?"

"Alas!" answered the man, "it is a long while. Remember that I wear a mortal existence; will be mine: from morning until night I shall have to bear heavy burdens, dragging concerns to the mill, that others may eat bread, while I shall have no encouragement, nor be refreshed by anything but blows and kicks. Give me but a portion of that time, I pray!"

Nature was moved with compassion, and presented but eighteen years. "The rest thou wilt have away comforted, and the dog came forward."

"How long dost thou require to live?" asked Nature.

"Thirty years were too many for the dog, but will that be contented with thee?"

"Is it thy will that I should?" replied the dog. "Think how much I shall have to run about; my feet will not last for so long a time, and when I shall have lost my voice for barking, and my teeth for biting, what else shall I be fit for but to lie down in the corner and growl?"

Nature thought he was right, and gave twelve years.

"The ape then appeared."

"Thou wilt, doubtless willingly live the thirty years," said Nature: "you will not have to labor as the dog and man. Life will be pleasant to thee."

"Ah, no!" cried he; "it may seem so to others, but it will not be! Should paddling ever rain down, I shall excite laughter by my gestures, and then be rewarded by a sour apple. How often sorrow lies concealed behind a jest! I shall not be able to endure for thirty years."

Nature was gracious, and he received but ten.

At last came man, healthy and strong, and asked the measure of his days.

"Will thirty years content thee?"

"How short a time!" exclaimed man: "When I have built my house, and kindled a fire upon my own hearth—when the trees I have planted are about to bloom and bear fruit—when life shall seem to me most desirable, I shall die. Oh, Nature, grant me a longer period."

"Then shalt thou have the eighteen years of the ass besides."

"That is not enough," replied the man.

"Take, likewise, the twelve years of the dog."

"It is not yet sufficient," reiterated man: "give me more."

"I will give thee, then, the ten years of the ape; and in vain wilt thou claim more."

Man departed wretched.

"Thus man lives seventy years. The first thirty are his human years, and pass swiftly by; he is then healthy and happy. He labors carefully, and rejoices in his existence. The eighteen of the ass come next: burden upon burden is heaped upon him—he carries the cross that is to feed others; blows and kicks are the reward of his faithful service. The twelve years of the dog follow, and he loses his teeth, and lies down in the corner and growls. When these are gone, the ape's ten years follow: from a conclusion—Then man, weak and silly, becomes the sport of children."

THE VINE OF SODOM.

In the vale near Jordan, in the neighborhood of Jericho, not far from the Dead Sea, is found, growing in great abundance, the vine of Sodom, a plant, from the fields around that devoted city, which produces grapes as bitter as gall, and wine as deadly as the poison of a serpent. This deleterious fruit is mentioned by Moses in terms which fully justify the ascription: "For their vine is of the vine of Sodom, and of the field of Gomorrah: their grapes are grapes of gall, their clusters are bitter, their wine is the poison of dragons, and the cruel venom of asps." It is probably the wild vine, a species of gourd, which produces the colic-poison: a fruit so excessively bitter that it cannot be eaten, and when given in medicine proves a powerful purgative. It seems, therefore, to have been early, and not without reason, considered as poisonous. It was of this wild vine the sons of the prophets ate; and its instantaneous effect, together with their knowledge of its violent action, easily accounts for their alarm. (2 Kings 4:39.)

THOUGHTS ESSENTIAL TO HEALTH.

If we would have our bodies healthy, our brains must be used in orderly and vigorous ways, that the life giving streams of force may flow down from them into the expiring organs, which can minister but as they are ministered unto. We admire the vigorous animal life of the Greeks, and with justice we recognize, and partly seek to imitate, the various gymnastics and other means which they employed to secure it. But probably we should make a fatal error, if we omitted from our calculation, the hearty and generous canopies with which the highest subjects of art, speculation and politics were pursued by them. Surely, in their case, the beautiful and energetic mental life was expressed in the athletic and graceful frame. And were it a mere extravagance to track whether some part of the lassitude and weariness of life, of which we hear so much in our day, might not be due to lack of mental occupation on worldly subjects, exciting and requiring a generous enthusiasm, as well as to an over exercise on lower ones? Whether an engagement on matters which have not substance enough to justify or satisfy the mental grasp, be not at the root of some part of the maladies which affect our mental consciousness? Any one who tries it, soon finds out how wearing, how disproportionately exhausting, is an overabundance of "light literature," compared with an equal amount of time spent on real work. Of this we may be sure that the due exercise of brain—of thought—is one of the essential elements of human life. The perfect health of a man is not the same as that of an ox or a horse. The preponderant capacity of his nervous parts demands a corresponding life.—Carroll Maguire.

CARPETINGS, APRIL 8, 1863.

IN CONSEQUENCE of the very high prices demanded by Manufacturers and Importers of Carpets, and the inability of the public to purchase at such rates, we have decided not to replenish our stock at this time, but will continue to sell from our present stock, which is very small, at the lowest rates. We have been calling for the past month, PRICES 125% than they can be bought anywhere else. And we would say to our customers that we will pay for them any particular style which may not have been in our stock, and if we cannot do so, we will make and put down carpets at our own low prices. LAWTON BROTHERS, April 8.

BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, residing in some of the United States, and in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, Charles Mason, Esq., has been appointed, and all papers of Patents, executed on behalf of him, and in his name, for the purpose of determining the validity of Patents of Invention, and for all other matters connected with the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent found to be invalid, may be obtained from him, for the purpose of determining the validity of the same. He is also authorized to execute all the duties of an Agent of the Patent Office, and to receive and deliver all notices of the same. He is also authorized to execute all the duties of an Agent of the Patent Office, and to receive and deliver all notices of the same. He is also authorized to execute all the duties of an Agent of the Patent Office, and to receive and deliver all notices of the same.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in saying, inasmuch as this cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application into effect, than Mr. Eddy, for the purpose of determining the validity of the same."

EDMOND RUSKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such successful proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend him to all who are desirous of procuring patents, as being the best of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN FARGATE.

"During eight months the subscribers, in course of this business, in all cases, have been successful in procuring patents, and in every case of which was referred to him, by the Commissioner of Patents."

PURE BOURBON WHISKY.
BOTTLED BY UDOLPHO WOLFE.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Having been collected by Phys. J. D. Wolfe, D.D., from the finest Bourbon Whisky in the world, and having been bottled by me, I can assure you that it is the purest and most delicious of any ever bottled. I have been selling it for many years, and it has been the favorite of all who have tried it. I am now selling it at a very low price, and I hope to sell a large quantity of it.

The Whisky will be put up in one gallon bottles, and packed in cases of one dozen each. It is now on hand at the following places: J. D. Wolfe, D.D., 100 Broadway, New York, and at all the leading liquor stores in the city.

We have tested the Bourbon Whisky which you sent us, and consider it highly entitled to the high reputation you claim for it. We would recommend you to supply some of the respectable Apothecaries in different parts of the United States with Agents for the sale of your Bourbon Whisky, where the profession can obtain the same when needed for medicinal purposes.

Wishing you success in your new enterprise, I remain, Sir, your obedient servant.

ARMY SPECIALS.

New York, May 3. The Times correspondent, dated in field near Chattanooga, 10 p.m. May 1st, states that the Second Army Corps took position the night previous on the left, and that the Third Corps reached the front about noon.

The position there occupied is thus described: We hold Gordonville Road, a country road leading to Spotsylvania Court House, and another road four miles in the rear of that. The entrenchments are thus dangerously exposed and if they fall it must be in the open fire.

A despatch captured yesterday from Lee to an engineer officer, dated April 29, says that he is much surprised at this movement, had not anticipated it and was not prepared to give instructions.

About noon a movement was made to endeavor to bring out the enemy and compel him to develop his strength. Our men entered the field with much enthusiasm only one regiment of cavalry first charging on the Rebel infantry. The rest of the division followed, when a small force of infantry supported the cavalry, checking the Rebels. Our division under Anderson then became engaged. Our troops drove the Rebels from two ridges parallel with the Rapidan, capturing 1 mile and 50 prisoners when Hooker ordered them to retire not wishing to bring on a general engagement. The Rebels broke up their retreat and moved rapidly. On the left of the ridge the Rebels were at a moment, gave a yell and came down on the Rebels, but were met by the Rebels who poured in terrible fire at a very short range. The contest lasted three quarters of an hour and extended to the cross roads where twenty-two of our guns shelled the Rebels effectually and the Rebels ignominiously fled.

During the afternoon the Rebels made several attempts on our lines, but were repulsed. At 3 p.m. they made a desperate charge to capture our battery, commanding the plain road to Frederickburg, but were handily repulsed by heavy artillery and musketry. The Rebels were driven back, and the Rebels were driven back, and the Rebels were driven back.

TWO O'CLOCK.

FROM CALIFORNIA.

SAY FRANCISCO, May 2.

Arrived ship Ball's Mailed. There is a good trade doing with Mexican ports, principally in dry goods, and much has been sent to the extensive mining enterprises going on there, and with Oregon and other Northern ports. The three of the interior of the State is unaccountably delayed. The market is heavy with little change in prices. Operations in mining stocks absorb the attention of many capitalists and business men. Gold and silver prices are just declared a 40th monthly dividend, of $100 per ounce. Well authenticated information from the Reserve confirms the rumors of some of the new silver mines opened in that region.

MOVEMENTS OF COLORED VOLENTIERS. Buffalo, May 3. Eighty-three colored men left here this evening for the camp at Readville, near Boston. About one hundred are awaiting transportation from the West to this place.

THE ALABAMA SPOKEN—PUEBLO NOT YET TAKEN. New York, May 4. Steamer Benbow, Havana, 20th arrived this morning. French vessel arrived at St. Juan, 20th reports that on the morning of the 17th was spoken by the pirate Malabar which steamed yesterday. A year ago the 17th states that the Benbow up to that time had not been taken by the French. Three attacks on port St. Juan had been made and the French repulsed each time when the Benbow returned.

General Benbow, sailed from St. Thomas, 25th steamer Gen. Hooker, and steamer Rebel, both from Mobile with cotton arrived at Havana.

REBEL SHIP NEARLY FINISHED. New York, May 4. The Mobile, Telegraph, on half sheet, of the 21st contains news in effect that the gunboat completed at Montgomery will soon leave for Mobile to be put in service.

A RATTLE ON SATURDAY PROBABLY. New York, May 4. The Rebel prints the following editorial. There is a strong probability of the result of the report that a battle commenced between the forces under Maj. Gen. Hooker and the Rebels under Gen. Lee about 8 o'clock on Saturday morning, on both the right and left of our army. It is stated that the commanding on the left was quite rapid.

Gen. Sedgwick was engaged on the right where General Franklin fought and the Rebels were determined to offer an obstinate resistance. On the right the commanding on the left was quite rapid.
